How high they hoisted Hooley!

Becky's balloons beat bully Boodle.

One declares for a free ballot and a fair count in every State in the Union.

Oh, that same old coon, bigger and better than ever!—Hooley's lament.

Four acres of Republican votes piled mountain high. Foraker is a good one.

What's the matter with that Democratic "mole"? If he is a thoroughbred why doesn't he show up?

Republicans must smile a smile more than a mile and a half wide. Think of the hearts that mourn without comfort.

Hooley means to run for the Presidency he would do well to colonize himself in Mississippi without further delay.

Telegraphic dispatches state that Governor Hooley is taking his defeat gracefully. This is very important news if true.

Belmont County did nobly. But then this is an era of Reform, and consequently if her action is not so very surprising, after all.

The bitter personal war on Murat Halseid doesn't seem to have hurt the Republican cause in Ohio. It may be that Mr. Halseid himself is in fairly good health.

One missing bird returns after many days with a fatal of damaged plumage that represents the wreck of the Democratic polity. He has been off on a little jaunt with the coon.

Was Mormon missionaries get recruits in the shape of sterling Illinois farmers it is time for the heavy hand of morality and decency to fall on the practice of polygamy with an uncertain whack.

It is probable that a Boston man will send Mr. Eaton as Civil Service Commissioner. Are we to have Boston "civilization" in the Reform Administration? If so, the candidates for office would better read up on baked beans.

On Tuesday morning the Cincinnati Enquirer, becoming confidential, whispered that "the upheaval of Flood Rock is not a nothing to the way the Democracy of Ohio will knock things to-day." Yes, Flood Rock went all to pieces.

"That same old coon" was in great demand yesterday. Those who were unable to get enough of him will find him in the sun-baking attitude, gracefully and graciously bearing all his ample tale, in the Weekly Intelligencer published to-day.

The co-partnership barstools existing between the undersigned in this day dissolved by mutual consent. Neither partner is responsible for any debts that may have been contracted by the firm.

(Signed) OHIO DEMOCRACY, OHIO PROHIBITION.

Columbus, O., Oct. 13, 1885.

As alleged church members were caught stealing from a grocer's till in Buffalo, the other day. How has the church member fallen? Hereafter he was a bank robber and robbed people of millions and estimated to Canada. But why connect a criminal crime with the report that he is a church member? That does not excuse him, neither does it bring discredit on the religion he professes. Before the law he is a plain every-day American citizen. That is all.

Somebody will be surprised to hear that these are ballot boxes missing in Hamilton county. If this is all that has happened the hoodlums must be amazed at their own moderation. They announced their intention to carry the county, and they didn't care particularly who knew how they expected to carry it. Our friends in Ohio may lose the Senate by this jobbery, but they elect their whole ticket by a handsome majority and John Sherman's return to the United States Senate is assured.

It must be that there are better nights than last night in store for the men who are passing the Mayor because he did his duty. They must have back somebody whose testimony will not increase the public admiration of the Mayor and give the Chief of Police another roasting on the spit—somebody whose testimony will give some appearance of support to the charges and may stand until the Mayor comes on with his witnesses. Thus for the Chief's own witnesses are good enough for the Mayor, and rather rapping on the prosecution.

The investigation of Porter Smith's charges against the Mayor opens badly for the Mayor. Only the witnesses of the prosecution were called, and yet the charges seemed soon to settle by its own gravity into an investigation of Chief of Police Smith. Exactly half of the witnesses were the Chief's own policemen, and some of them knew anything that would turn the Mayor as a public officer of a man.

Of the other five witnesses one was called on the spur of the moment to show how the Chief's monthly report is made up, and this was to get him out of the scrape of the mediated record. The remaining four knew absolutely nothing about the case, and yet they were called on to keep this thing up the people will pull the Mayor out of his seat by the collar and bear him through the streets to the city hall.

Various charges are preferred against the grand jury of Franklin county, Ohio, that they have favored wealthy Republicans and convicted impetuous ones without regard to the merits of the cases.

HOADLY HOISTED.

And Foraker Still Running Like a Scared Deer.

The Republican Candidate Will Have Nearly 20,000 Plurality.

Senator Sherman's Good Work in the Campaign Tells.

The Legislature Surely Republican on Joint Ballot.

But Democratic Thieves in the City of Cincinnati.

Seem Bound to Steal Four Senators from the Republicans.

Decent Citizens of Both Parties Indignant at the Outrage.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, October 14.—Returns of about one-half the State show a ratio of Republican gains which we are confident will be maintained, and will give us the State by fully 20,000 plurality. The prohibition vote may about equal this.

Private advices from Cincinnati say that ballot-boxes have been stolen by Democratic manipulators, and an evident attempt to bring about a change in the returns and count out four Republican Senators.

This would leave the Senate Democratic, but cannot knock us out on joint ballot.

A. S. BUSHNELL.

Chairman Republican Ex. Committee.

SHAKE!

Our Bird Takes Another Hold on Affairs in the Buckeye State.

Forced by an ill Wind from his Home to Stray, Our Bird Comes Back, and Coming Comes to Stay.

A RELIGIOUS STORY.

A New York City—Episcopal Clergyman goes to "Retreat."

New York, Oct. 14.—A large number of clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church left for Garrison, on the Hudson, this morning, to participate in the "Retreat" which opened at that place last evening. Quite a sensation has been created, both among the clergy and laity of this city, by this innovation, and the outcome of a venture which combines the evangelical methods of the Methodist church with the personal self-denial of the Church of Rome is awaited with no little interest. The preparations for the "Retreat" and subsequent revival campaign have been made by Rev. W. H. Alden, of London, and nine other English clergymen, who have been industrious in the same field in their own country.

About one-half of the spacious hotel at Garrison has been set apart for the "Retreat" ministry, guests, who for three days will be left in seclusion for prayerful and meditative preparation, the arrangements with the hotel proprietor providing that they are on no account to be interrupted during that period. Among the forty participants is Assistant Bishop Potter, who has placed himself under the most rigorous treatment, spending not less than six hours in prayer.

The evangelizing meetings in this city will commence at the end of the present month. A prominent clergyman, speaking of the new departure, said that it would undoubtedly cause a stir in the Episcopal Church throughout the country. "The 'Retreat'," he said, was simply intended to put the participants into intellectual and spiritual harmony. The revival, he added, was aimed toward the church of the poor as well as of the rich, and that it should reach the masses as well as the fashionable and wealthy.

THE GAME.

The Chicago sent the visitors to the hat and toyed with them. The runs were made as follows: For the St. Louis Comiskey got a base on an error and scored on two other errors in the second inning. On the fourth inning O'Neil, Robinson, Latham and Garretts got in runs off two base hits were held. Williamson threw the ball one hundred and thirty-three yards, one foot and four inches, defeating five others. Pfeiffer ran the bases in fifteen and three-fourth seconds defeating five contestants.
